

Devil's Kitchen Loop:
Class 1
3.9 miles
1,130' vertical
2.1 hours

The Kitchen Wall

The hike begins at the Stone Road parking lot (41°45'19.1"N 72°56'23.8"W), 0.3 miles south of the stop sign at George Washington Turnpike. Hike south along the gravel based Stone Road, which is also the Blue blaze with a Yellow dot trail (B/Y). At 0.3 miles, the trail takes a sharp right into Nassahegan State Forest. After 100 yards, watch the blazes, as the B/Y takes a 45° right turn away from a wide unmarked trail. As you start to climb, you pass the junction with the Blue blaze with an Orange dot trail (B/O) at 0.4 miles. At 1.1 miles you begin to descend as you pass the junction with the Green Dot Trail. At 1.5 miles you reach the cul-de-sac at the end of Cornwall Road. Continue straight past the gate as the B/Y becomes a wide dirt road. At 1.8 miles you reach the large trail junction with the B/O trail where you turn left. At 2.5 miles you will hike up through a box ravine known as Devil's Kitchen. The name was created to describe the "devilish" steep boulder hop that lasts for about a half mile. Although it is rated a Class 1 hike, it will get your heart pumping. At 3.4 miles the B/O Trail ends. Take a right onto the B/Y Trail and return to your car at 3.9 miles.
